

Coronavirus

When should I keep my child off school?

From Friday 13th March, everyone with flu-like symptoms - defined as a fever of above 37.8C or a persistent cough - is being asked to stay at home for at least seven days.

If your child has an underlying medical condition and has been advised to stay away from school by a medical professional, they should be isolated and cared for at home.

