It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas!

Cold weather

At the moment, we are being advised that it is best to keep rooms well ventilated. This means that we have the windows open in school. The heating is on, but it is quite chilly in the classrooms. However, I have already sent out information to parents about extra layers for children, but I thought I would remind you again.

Children can wear a royal blue fleece/hoodie/jumper in addition to their usual school uniform. They should also wear layers underneath—perhaps a t-shirt as well as their vest. If children complain of the cold in class, we also let them wear their coats.

We are trying really hard to keep everyone safe and well. Sending children in to school with lots of layers will really help. Thank you.

It looks like we might have a little bit of wintry weather this weekend. Please make sure we have up to date contact details for you in case we have to close school at short notice.

Building works

Work is moving on quite swiftly and the work on the roof is on schedule to be finished according to the planned timescale at the moment. The builders have been helping out Hare class with a writing project which the children have really enjoyed. More materials have arrived on site this week.

Christmas

The children have started recording their Christmas performances this week and we will let you know as soon as they are available on the website.

Please send Christmas cards in from Monday 14th December. They will all be distributed on the last day of term.

Christmas jumper day is Friday 18th December. Children can wear a Christmas jumper, hat, headband, if they would like to. Otherwise they can just wear uniform as usual.

We will be having Christmas movies and snacks kindly sponsored by the Friends during the last few days of term. Thank you to the Friends for supplying the DVDs and snacks for this.

Keep safe and well.
