In School:

It has been as busy as ever in school and it is hard to believe that we are already at the end of September! We now have Class Dojo up and running and we hope that you will find this new addition to our school communication systems easy to use and a 'window' into your child's school day. There are still a few families who have not updated their photo consent on Arbor and the status is still showing as 'pending'. This is easy to do and I would urge all parents and carers to login to their account or go on the App and select either 'decline' or 'accept'.

Mrs Preece

I am sad to announce that after many loyal years at our school, Mrs Preece will be retiring at half term. She started with the school working in the 'playgroup' (before we had a school nursery) and then moved into the main school as a TA and more recently supporting pupils 1:1. Mrs Preece is both patient and kind and I know that she has had an extremely positive impact on the pupils she has worked with. She will be missed in school but I know she is looking forward to the arrival of her third grandchild in December. We wish her lots of love and happiness in her retirement and we are sure that she will remain a friend of our school.

Book Fair

We hosted the first of a series of after school book fairs today. There were lots of wonderful books on offer and many were very competitively priced. Lots of families visited and purchased books (and other small gifts such as stationary and pencil cases). Not only is this a lovely event for children to gain a new favourite book, but school also collects rewards for every £5 spent which we can then exchange for books for use in the classrooms. If you haven't been in yet, it's not too late as the event will also be running at the start of next week.

FRIENDS

Mrs Bates and I attended the FRIENDS AGM earlier this month at the Market Hall. They worked tirelessly last year to raise funds that go directly to enhancing the children's school experience. We are just agreeing dates to have new play markings put down in the KS1 playground—a project which the FRIENDS have contributed £1500 towards. They are already planning this year's events with the first activity being a Halloween Disco which is planned for Thursday 17th October. As usual, Ducklings, Fox and Owl Class will enjoy the disco during the afternoon, with other classes coming back after school.

I hope you have a wonderful weekend.
